Acupuncture Associates of Delray Beach Incorporates Migun Thermal Massage into Traditional Chinese Medical Practice

Delray Beach, Florida — August 29, 2005 — Acupuncture Associates of Delray Beach announced today the availability of the Migun Thermal Massage System (“Migun”) used worldwide by health practitioners. Migun is a therapeutic bed that incorporates five different principles into a single therapeutic session based on acupuncture, acupressure, chiropractic, moxibustion (heat treatment) and massage techniques. It is FDA approved as a Class II Medical Device.

“The Migun Thermal Massage System represents the fusion of Asian and Western medical techniques and offers an additional alternative method of treating a wide variety of conditions without any side effects,” said Dr. Susan Schiff of Acupuncture Associates.

Migun has the ability to lift, stretch and flex the spine, working to lengthen and increase flexibility between the vertebrae. Further, the heat therapy component, known as moxibustion, helps to increase blood circulation and relieve muscle tension. There have been numerous studies conducted on the benefits of Migun Thermal Massage in Korea and China, as well as the University of California Irvine’s School of Medicine.

Migun has the ability to restore structural integrity, increase circulation, stimulate acupressure and acupuncture points, flush out toxins, and ease chronic pain. Two of the studies conducted at the University of California during the past 3 years have been published that show a significant reduction in blood pressure and blood sugar levels in Type II diabetics with continuous use of the bed. They are currently studying the bed’s effect on individual disease conditions.

Added Dr. Schiff, “Migun is the perfect adjunct to acupuncture treatment as the jade massage heads are used to apply infrared heat that stimulates all the back shu points lateral to the spine. By stimulating these points, the entire network of meridians is positively balanced.”
